How To Remove Erectile Dysfunction With Hypnosis

Richard Barker
Erectile dysfunction is very common, affecting about one in ten men, and is one of the most commonly treated sexual problems in my office today.

Erectile dysfunction issues that can be resolved include but not limited to:

- Impotency – a difficulty in obtaining or maintaining firm erections
- Libido – your libido may have decreased or disappeared
- Relationships – perhaps you avoid intimacy or your partner feels you’re not attracted to them
- Sexual confidence – you worry about pleasing a partner or perhaps feel sexually inexperienced

As a sufferer, you may be caught in a perpetual loop of anticipating failure to achieve an erection, which in turn brings about the failure and thus reinforces the expectation that it will happen again. However, hypnotherapy can and does help to break this cycle.

Erectile dysfunction hypnotherapy treatment

Conventional methods of hypnosis, such as NLP and EFT, attempt to control erectile dysfunction by using suggestions, instructions and visualisations. However, if you try to persuade and convince the subconscious to dispose of the problem without addressing why it has chosen to react in that way, then the relief is likely to be short lived. Furthermore, if we suppress a symptom that the subconscious believes is beneficial in some way, then it will likely create a different problem in its place. In my New York Office I have seen clients whose previously ‘suppressed’ erectile dysfunction had manifested into premature ejaculation and other symptoms. The mind can create the condition but we have a healthy remedy. Click here for a Video on how hypnosis works and the fees.
The most effective way to treat erectile dysfunction completely and permanently, is to resolve what’s causing it; if there is no longer any cause, there can be no effect.

So why do you suffer from erectile dysfunction? You have probably puzzled over this many times before. Looked for reasons, triggers behind it. Perhaps you know why; an early sexual experience caused you embarrassment or feelings of inadequacy. Perhaps it’s been triggered by stress, guilt or depression. Maybe it’s linked to a wider anxiety issue, or fear of failure, rejection or criticism. But knowing this doesn’t make the problem go away. Or maybe you can't think of any reasons to explain it. But that doesn’t mean there is no cause, because for something to exist it has to have been created. It has to come from somewhere.

Beneath all the triggers, confirmation and contributing factors there is a single, root cause stored away in the subconscious mind. It’s something you can’t think of. Something small, easily forgotten, easily overlooked. It’s like that bit of grit in your eye. Once you find it, it can be hard to believe that something so small could have caused so much trouble.

It can take years for our problems, conditions and symptoms to get a good hold over us. Something that starts out as a minor irritation gets worse and worse until it causes us so much suffering that we eventually seek help to put it right.

Erectile dysfunction hypnosis is a permanent solution to the problem without medical procedure.
Erectile Dysfunction Hypnotherapy Is Extremely Fast And Effective

I approach each client without theories or preconceptions – except for one – that the answer to the sexual problem lies only within your subconscious mind. There is no need to suppress or manage your symptoms. By helping to resolve and correct the true cause, your erectile dysfunction – along with any anticipation, anxiety and fear – can automatically fade away, until eventually your erectile dysfunction is nothing but a vague and distant memory.

With my Hypnosis You are not required to relive any traumatic or upsetting situation. All you will feel is beautifully relaxed.

Next step...

If you would like to explore further how my hypnosis can help with erectile dysfunction or other sexual issues, then please contact me to book a consultation. For information on fees and appointments, please go here

Richard Barker is a World Renowned Professional Hypnotist. He has spent the last 15 years working with thousands of clients across the world. He improves the lives of many through Hypnosis consultation and seminars. Richard’s amazing stage show has been produced in 38 Countries. He has appeared as a headline performer for Celebrity and Carnival Cruise Lines and large fortune 500 companies. Richard Barker, as recently appeared on NBC's The Today Show, CBS' The Late Late Show with James Corden, FOX’s Good Day LA and News channels for FOX and ABC

He has written a book called “Secrets Of The Stage Revealed. The Guide To Hypnosis And Stage Hypnotism” Richard’s new book focusing on Persuasion and sales performance titled “Selling Hypnotically. The Art Of Suggestion”